Client's description

John (male, 32 years old, with a master's degree in Art Conservation) has been working as a stationery shop manager for 5 years. He started to work in the shop as a shop assistant while he was looking for a job in an art museum, but then he got a promotion that he accepted. Three months ago, he applied for a one-year-temporary work in the local museum. He did the interview and two days ago was informed that he has been selected for the job. Now that he has the real possibility to work in a museum as he has always dreamed, he cannot decide whether to quit his permanent job or to wait for another opportunity. He feels safer with a permanent job as his partner is pregnant with their second child. He has decided to ask the career counsellor of his organization to help him.
